securing a hose to a surface using pla

TIP: The PVC material of the small sleeve is relatively hard. This makes it easy to cut lengthwise and then slip over an existing hose. Because of the harder material, they won't open on their own and hold very well on the hose. This is especially true when they are inserted into a mount. If necessary, glue them back together with superglue.

Alternatively, there is also a soft and flexible version available: HEL-GROMMET-W in our shop.
